DETAILED ACTION

1. The drawings are objected to: the various elements in the drawings must be labeled by numerals and these details must be discussed in details in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

3. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

It is unclear what comprises "suitable material". The specification fails to shed any light in what comprises "suitable material").

Claims 2 and 3 are narrative in form and replete with indefinite and functional or operational language. The structure which goes to make up the device must be clearly and positively specified. The structure must be organized and correlated in such a manner as to present a complete operative device. The claims must be in one sentence form only. Note the format of the claims in the patents cited.

The term "like rings" renders the claim indefinite. It is unclear what is encompassed by "like".

"In the case of unequal widths" renders the claim indefinite. It is unclear whether this limitation is a positive recitation of the structure.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

5. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Muldner et al.

(5518136). Muldner teaches a holder having two elastic rings 30 and a connector 34 as shown in various figures. It is noted that the term “baby bottle cap holder” does not impart any structure over the structure in Muldner.

6. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Doshi et al.

(6622356). Doshi teaches a holder having two elastic rings 22' and a connector 20 as shown in figure 2b. It is noted that the term “baby bottle cap holder” does not impart any structure over the structure in Doshi. Note the elastic teaching in col. 3, ln. 5.

7. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Brooke (779582) or Perdue (2155329). ^{Brooke}~~Doshi~~ teaches a holder having two elastic rings and a connector portion 12 as shown in figure 3. It is noted that the term “baby bottle cap holder” does not impart any structure over the structure in Brooke.

Perdue teaches a holder having two elastic 2 and a connector portion 1 as shown in figure

1. It is noted that the term “baby bottle cap holder” does not impart any structure over the structure in Perdue.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

8. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

9. Claims 1-3 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Chan (D477529), or in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Chan in view of Witherspoon (6302286) or Doshi. Chan teaches a holder having two elastic rings (one is connected to the neck of the bottle as shown in Fig. 3) and a connector as shown in various figures.

To the degree it is argued that the ring in Chan is not elastic, either Witherspoon or Doshi teaches that it is known in the art to provide an elastic holding structure (note Witherspoon, col. 5, ln. 24). It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art to provide an elastic holding structure in Chan as taught by either Witherspoon or Doshi to provide the desired material for the container.
